APPLICATION TO FILE COMPLAINT AGAINST RAILWAY MERGER DENIED.

MINNESOTA THE APPLICANT

Judge Shiras of the United States Supreme Court Read the Opinion—Held That Minority Stockholders of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Should Not Have Their Rights Affected Without a Hearing.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The United States supreme court has decided against Minnesota in the fight with the Northern Securities company, to the extent that the court is without jurisdiction in the matter. This is the merger case, and the state of Minnesota made application to file a bill of complaint before the highest federal court. Judge Shiras read the opinion, which, summarized, follows: "As the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Railway companies are indispensable parties, without whose presence the court, acting as a court of equity, cannot proceed, and as our constitutional jurisdiction would not extend to the case if those companies were made parties defendant, the motion for leave to file the proposed bill must be and is denied."

The opinion is a voluminous one, but the greater part of it is a review of the history of the case. Summarizing the case, Justice Shiras said:

"The case presented by the charges and prayers of the bill is that the state of Minnesota is apprehensive that a majority of the stockholders respectively of the Great Northern and of the Northern Pacific railway companies have combined and have made an arrangement through the organization of a corporation of the state of New Jersey, whereby such consolidation or what is alleged to amount to the same thing, a joint control and management of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railway companies shall be affected as will operate to defeat and overrule the policy of the state in prohibiting the consolidation of parallel and competing lines of railway and therefore appeals to a court of equity to prevent by injunction the operation and effect of such a combination and arrangement."

He then stated that the question to be determined was whether the parties to the case were before the court and he held that it was obvious that the minority stockholders of the two railroad companies are not represented in the controversy by the companies whose stock they hold and their rights ought not to be affected without a hearing, even if it were conceded that a majority of the stock in such companies, held by a few persons, had assisted in forming some sort of an illegal arrangement. Moreover, it must not be overlooked that it is not the private interests of stockholders that are to be alone considered.

The opinion then continued: "The directors of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railway company are appointed to represent and protect not merely the private and pecuniary interests of the stockholders, but the rights of the public at large which is deeply concerned in the proper and advantageous management of these public highways. It is not sufficient to say that the attorney general or the governor or even the legislature of the state can be conclusively deemed to represent the public interests in such a controversy as that presented by the bill. Even as a state when she voluntarily becomes a complainant in a court of equity, cannot claim to represent both sides of the controversy. Not only have the stockholders, be they few or many, a right to be heard through the officers and directors whom they have legally selected to represent them, but the general interests of the public which might be deeply affected by the decree of the court are entitled to be heard, and that when the state is the complainant and in a case like the present can only be affected by the presence of the railroad companies as parties defendant."

Both Sides Must Be Represented.

"Upon investigation it might turn out that the allegations of the bill are well founded and that the state is entitled to relief; or it might turn out that there is no intention or design on the part of the railroad companies to form any combination in disregard of the policy of the state, but what is proposed is consistent with that policy and advantageous to the community affected. But in making such investigation, a court of equity must insist that both sides of the controversy shall be adequately represented and fully heard."

"When it appears to a court of equity that a case, otherwise presenting ground for its action, cannot be dealt with because of the absence of essential parties, it is usual for the court while sustaining the objection to grant leave to the complainant to amend by bringing in such parties. But when it likewise appears that necessary and indispensable parties are beyond the reach of the jurisdiction of the court or that when made parties the jurisdiction of the court will thereby be defeated, for the court to grant leave to amend would be useless."

INDIAN BOY BURIED ALIVE

Fiendish Deed of a Chilkoot Medicine Man.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 25.—The steamer Dirigo, which has just arrived from Alaska, brought news that Chilkoot Indians near Hinesmission, Alaska, on Feb. 5, buried alive one of their tribe, a boy 15 years of age. The boy had been converted to Christianity by Milo A. Sellen, a Methodist missionary, and in a burst of religious zeal denounced the mummeries of the tribal life, or medicine man. This act aroused the anger of the superstitious old men of the tribe. Recently 14 native residents of village of Kluckwan died of consumption, and the light spread the belief that the boy, in league with the evil one, through his knowledge of the white man's religion, caused the deaths.

The disappearance of the boy from school aroused the suspicions of Mr. Sellen and he started in search. At the outskirts of the village he found tracks leading to a fresh grave. Digging down he found the boy still alive, his bloodshot eyes rolling in insane agony, his hair torn in handfuls from his head. His finger nails were torn off in his efforts to escape from his terrible prison. The boy was lifted from the grave, and carried to the village, where he lived several hours, howling and crying out like a maniac, finally dying from the effects of suffering and fright. The light, who is responsible for the crime, is Skunn Doo, an old offender, who spent a term in San Quentin penitentiary for causing an old woman to be starved to death in 1894.

RUN ON A DETROIT BANK.

Impossible to Ascertain the Cause of the Panic.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25.—A run was started on the Jefferson Avenue branch of the Dime Savings bank about noon, and soon after 2 o'clock it spread to the bank itself, at the corner of Griswold and Fort streets. Depositors were paid as fast as the accounts could be checked up and the currency could be counted out. At 3 o'clock, the regular hour for closing the bank, it was crowded with anxious depositors and the line of people who wanted their accounts extended through the door and some distance down Fort street. Instead of closing the bank, the directors decided to hold open until 6 o'clock. The receiving teller and his assistants dropped their usual work and assisted in paying the depositors. Until 6 o'clock accounts were closed as rapidly as possible. At that hour the line of people waiting for admission to the bank extended down Fort street for almost a block. President Livingston addressed them from the steps of the bank, and said that while the bank would now close it would open at 9 o'clock in the morning, and every depositor would be paid in full.

It is impossible to learn what was the direct cause of the run. It is said that a Polish depositor at the Jefferson Avenue branch saw a sign on the door Saturday announcing that the bank was closed because its being Washington's birthday, and a legal holiday. He is said to have spread the report that the bank had closed, and thereby frightened the depositors at the branch. The news of the run there gradually spread down town and started the run on the bank itself.

CONDITIONS UNSATISFACTORY.

Brigandage Said to Be on the Increase in Manchuria.

London, Feb. 25.—The Peking correspondent of the Times, after having made a visit to New Chwang, says in a dispatch to his paper that the conditions in the interior of Manchuria are unsatisfactory. He declares brigandage to be on the increase and that the animosity of the people toward the Russian occupation is growing. The Russians regard the outlook with much uneasiness. The Japanese are extremely active and are found everywhere in intimate association with the Chinese.

Russia declares, continues the correspondent, that she will not restore the Shan-Kai-Kwan-New Chwang railway or the civil government of New Chwang until the foreign administration at Tien Tsin ceases.

The Russian soldiers in Manchuria, concludes the correspondent, number 63,000 men, while the Japanese assert they can land 150,000 troops in Manchuria within a month.

REVOLUTION GAINS GROUND.

Uprising Reported in All Parts of Venezuela.

It is also asserted that General Mahos' revolutionary steamer Libertador (formerly the Ban Right), having landed arms, ammunition and reinforcements at Pedernales, in the gulf of Paria, the insurgents assembled at Maturin, assumed the offensive and defeated the government troops at El Pilar, a village situated 50 miles from Karupano (state of Bermudez). HAS NO JURISDICTION

AGAINST RAILWAY MERGER
DENIED.

Judge Shiras of the United States Supreme Court Read the Opinion—Held That Minority Stockholders of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Should Not Have Their Rights Affected Without a Hearing.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The United States supreme court has decided against Minnesota in the fight with the Northern Securities company, to the extent that the court is without jurisdiction in the matter. This is the merger case, and the state of Minnesota made application to file a bill of complaint before the highest federal court. Judge Shiras read the opinion, which, summarized, follows: "As the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railway companies are indispensable parties, without whose presence the court, acting as a court of equity, cannot proceed, and as our constitutional jurisdiction would not extend to the case if those companies were made parties defendant, the motion for leave to file the proposed bill must be and is denied."

The opinion is a voluminous one, but the greater part of it is a review of the history of the case. Summarizing the case, Justice Shiras said:

"The case presented by the charges and prayers of the bill is that the state of Minnesota is apprehensive that a majority of the stockholders respectively of the Great Northern and of the Northern Pacific railway companies have combined and have made an arrangement through the organization of a corporation of the state of New Jersey, whereby such consolidation or what is alleged to amount to the same thing, a joint control and management of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railway companies shall be affected as will operate to defeat and overrule the policy of the state in prohibiting the consolidation of parallel and competing lines of railway and therefore appeals to a court of equity to prevent by injunction the operation and effect of such a combination and arrangement."

He then stated that the question to be determined was whether the parties to the case were before the court and he held that it was obvious that the minority stockholders of the two railroad companies are not represented in the controversy by the companies whose stock they hold and their rights ought not to be affected without a hearing, even if it were conceded that a majority of the stock in such companies, held by a few persons, had assisted in forming some sort of an illegal arrangement. Moreover, it must not be overlooked that it is not the private interests of stockholders that are to be alone considered."

The opinion then continued: "The directors of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railway company are appointed to represent and protect not merely the private and pecuniary interests of the stockholders, but the rights of the public at large which is deeply concerned in the proper and advantageous management of these public highways. It is not sufficient to say that the attorney general or the governor or even the legislature of the state can be conclusively deemed to represent the public interests in such a controversy as that presented by the bill. Even as a state when she voluntarily becomes a complainant in a court of equity, cannot claim to represent both sides of the controversy. Not only have the stockholders, be they few or many, a right to be heard through the officers and directors whom they have legally selected to represent them, but the general interests of the public which might be deeply affected by the decree of the court are entitled to be heard, and that when the state is the complainant and in a case like the present can only be affected by the presence of the railroad companies as parties defendant."

Both Sides Must Be Represented.

"Upon investigation it might turn out that the allegations of the bill are well founded and that the state is entitled to relief; or it might turn out that there is no intention or design on the part of the railroad companies to form any combination in disregard of the policy of the state, but what is proposed is consistent with that policy and advantageous to the communities affected. But in making such investigation, a court of equity must insist that both sides of the controversy shall be adequately represented and fully heard."

"When it appears to a court of equity that a case, otherwise presenting ground for its action, cannot be dealt with because of the absence of essential parties, it is usual for the court while sustaining the objection to grant leave to the complainant to amend by bringing in such parties. But where it likewise appears that necessary and indispensable parties are beyond the reach of the jurisdiction of the court or that when made parties the jurisdiction of the court will thereby be defeated, for the court to grant leave to amend would be useless."

INDIAN BOY BURIED ALIVE

Fiendish Deed of a Chilkoot Medicine Man.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 25.—The steamer Dirigo, which has just arrived from Alaska, brought news that Chilkoot Indians near Hinesmission, Alaska, on Feb. 5, buried alive one of their tribe, a boy 15 years of age. The boy had been converted to Christianity by Milo A. Sellen, a Methodist missionary, and in a burst of religious zeal denounced the mummeries of the tribal life, or medicine man. This act aroused the anger of the superstitious old men of the tribe. Recently 14 native residents of village of Kluckwan died of consumption, and the light spread the belief that the boy, in league with the evil one, through his knowledge of the white man's religion, caused the deaths.

The disappearance of the boy from school aroused the suspicions of Mr. Sellen, and he started in search. At the outskirts of the village he found tracks leading to a fresh grave. Digging down he found the boy still alive, his bloodshot eyes rolling in insane agony, his hair torn in handfuls from his head. His finger nails were torn off in his efforts to escape from his terrible prison. The boy was lifted from the grave, and carried to the village, where he lived several hours, howling and crying out like a maniac, finally dying from the effects of suffering and fright. The light, who is responsible for the crime, is Skunn Doo, an old offender, who spent a term in San Quentin penitentiary for causing an old woman to be starved to death in 1894.

The state will proceed in some form at once, and will exhaust every means in its power to enforce its laws and protect its rights."

RUN ON A DETROIT BANK.

Impossible to Ascertain the Cause of the Panic.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25.—A run was started on the Jefferson Avenue branch of the Dime Savings bank about noon, and soon after 2 o'clock it spread to the bank itself, at the corner of Griswold and Fort streets. Depositors were paid as fast as the accounts could be checked up and the currency could be counted out. At 3 o'clock, the regular hour for closing the bank, it was crowded with anxious depositors and the line of people who wanted their accounts extended through the door and some distance down Fort street. Instead of closing the bank, the directors decided to hold open until 6 o'clock. The receiving teller and his assistants dropped their usual work and assisted in paying the depositors. Until 6 o'clock accounts were closed as rapidly as possible. At that hour the line of people waiting for admission to the bank extended down Fort street for almost a block. President Livingston addressed them from the steps of the bank, and said that while the bank would now close it would open at 9 o'clock in the morning, and every depositor would be paid in full.

It is impossible to learn what was the direct cause of the run. It is said that a Polish depositor at the Jefferson Avenue branch saw a sign on the door Saturday announcing that the bank was closed because its being Washington's birthday, and a legal holiday. He is said to have spread the report that the bank had closed, and thereby frightened the depositors at the branch. The news of the run there gradually spread down town and started the run on the bank itself.

CONDITIONS UNSATISFACTORY.

Brigandage Said to Be on the Increase in Manchuria.

London, Feb. 25.—The Peking correspondent of the Times, after having made a visit to New Chwang, says in a dispatch to his paper that the conditions in the interior of Manchuria are unsatisfactory. He declares brigandage to be on the increase and that the animosity of the people toward the Russian occupation is growing. The Russians regard the outlook with much uneasiness. The Japanese are extremely active and are found everywhere in intimate association with the Chinese.

Russia declares, continues the correspondent, that she will not restore the Shan-Kai-Kwan-New Chwang railway or the civil government of New Chwang until the foreign administration at Tien Tsin ceases.

The Russian soldiers in Manchuria, concludes the correspondent, number 63,000 men, while the Japanese assert they can land 150,000 troops in Manchuria within a month.

REVOLUTION GAINS GROUND.

Uprising Reported in All Parts of Venezuela.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Feb. 25.—In spite of the bulletins of victories over the insurgents, published by the Venezuelan government, advices received here from Caracas indicate that the revolution is gaining ground daily. New uprisings are reported in almost all parts of the country, notably in the Tachira district, on the Colombian frontier, and in the vicinity of Barcelona, where the insurgents are concentrating.

It is also asserted that General Maibos' revolutionary steamer Libertador (formerly the Ban Right), having landed arms, ammunition and reinforcements at Pedernales, in the gulf of Paria, the insurgents assembled at Maturin, assumed the offensive and defeated the government troops at El Pilar, a village situated 50 kilos from Karupano (state of Bermudez). The latter place is said to be threatened by the insurgents.

MAINTAINS ITS CORRECTNESS

Germany's Reply to England on Dr. von Holleben's Dispatch.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The reply of Germany to the complaint of Lord Lansdowne, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, concerning the publication by Germany of the dispatch from Dr. von Holleben, German ambassador to the United States, with regard to the meeting of ambassadors in Washington, held April 14, 1898, and which asserts that Dr. von Holleben misunderstood the action of Lord Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States, at that meeting, maintains the correctness of Dr. Holleben's dispatch.

The reply of the German government suggests that the British government publish Lord Pauncefote's report of this same conference.

FIVE FOUND MURDERED.

A Terrible Crime Discovered Near Welsh, La.

Welsh, La., Feb. 25.—It has been discovered that five of the six members of the Earl family, living about three miles from here, have been murdered, and that the head of the household has disappeared. It is generally believed that he has been killed. His wife had the whole front of her face mashed in with some blunt instrument. One of her sons had been shot through the head and the throats of three others had been cut. None of the family had been seen since Thursday last and it is thought that they were killed on that night. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the deed. The Earls originally came from Iowa.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.
Educators who Gather in St. Paul Favor State Inspection for Country Districts.
Although the last session of the legislature killed the bill providing for rural school inspectors, the idea has not been killed but has been agitated more extensively than ever before, and the county superintendents desiring it are preparing to bring it before the next session of the legislature, when they feel sure that it will be passed. When the bill was introduced last year the idea was a new one and it had never been discussed to any extent and there was no systematic effort to secure its favorable consideration.
A number of county superintendents, who have been in St. Paul during the past week, express entire confidence that the next legislature will act favorably upon the proposition.
County Superintendent W. E. Freeman, of Blue Earth county, is among the most enthusiastic champions of the bill.
He thinks that if the state high and graded schools need inspectors, much more do the normal schools. He says rural schools are not what they should be and help is needed.
"Those who have given the matter of state inspection of high and graded schools some consideration will not question that the greatest good has come from it. The inspectors of these schools go from one town or city to another, carrying with them the best ideas and methods of all the schools inspected. Except in very extraordinary and highly justifiable cases, these inspectors do not attempt to dictate to the principals or superintendents of such city schools. A wise inspector will unite his authority with the influence of the principal or superintendent, and together will secure through the board of education such building, such apparatus and such teachers as the conditions of the school may require. How many times have I, and how many times have you, heard principals and superintendents express a wish that the inspector would come in order that necessary changes might be made in teachers or school equipment?
"Before passing to the real question at issue, it will be well to compare the conditions governing the inspection and supervision of the common schools of a county with those of the city. For this purpose I shall take the city of Mankato and the county of Blue Earth. I select these two because of a personal knowledge of each. I believe a perfectly parallel case may be drawn from any county in the state. Some may say there are few counties in the state with as many teachers as Blue Earth. In answer to which I must say that there are few cities in the state with as many teachers as Mankato."

War on Ragtime Music.
Chicago musicians of the higher class—those who have engagements with the Thomas orchestra, theater orchestras and concert companies—are discussing a plan of forming a new organization and seceding from the Chicago Federation of Musicians, says the Chicago Journal. The reason is the feeling that inferior musicians who play for dances and for money rather than art's sake make up the body of the federation. The others want some distinction between the men who play ragtime and think it is music and those who are called upon to interpret the difficult compositions of Wagner, Verdi, Mascagni and Gounod. There are 2,000 union musicians in Chicago, and of these 400 or 500 are said to be in sympathy with the movement.
Why Easter Is a "Movable" Feast.
During all of March the sun is coming farther north. About the 20th it shines directly on the equator, and the day is just as long as the night. The time of the old Jewish passover, and hence of our Easter, depends on this date, says March Ladies' Home Journal. This latter always comes on the Sunday following the first full moon after the sun crosses the line. This accounts for it being so "movable" a feast.

THE TAX BILL IS DEFEATED
SPECIAL TO THE DISPATCH.
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 25—The tax bill was defeated in the house today by a vote of fifty-four to sixty.
The special session of the legislature convened at the state capitol in St. Paul on February 4, just three weeks ago today, to consider the new tax code as revised and prepared by the state commission. Since that time amendments to the original code had been made by the dozens, but even then it did not appear to meet the approval of the majority of the house.

STORY ABOUT DUFFERIN.
How the Famous British Diplomat Renewed an Old Acquaintance.
When governor general of Canada, the late Lord Dufferin visited Washington and was banqueted at the White House by the president of the United States, says the Belfast Northern Whig. During the evening one of the president's guests, accosting the governor general, asked to be permitted the honor of renewing an old acquaintance. "With pleasure," said Lord Dufferin, whose memory for faces was excellent, trying hard to locate the personality of the "old acquaintance," but without success. "I don't wonder your excellency has forgotten me," said the American, interpreting rightly his lordship's inquiring gaze. "It is so very long ago since we met." "How long?" inquired Lord Dufferin. "Some thirty-five years," coolly replied the stranger. "Thirty-five years?" exclaimed the governor general in surprise. "Why, I was a little boy then." "I was a little boy myself," said the American, "but perhaps a brief story will help you to remember me." "I shall be delighted to hear it," returned courteously Lord Dufferin.
"Thirty-five years ago," proceeded the stranger, "the youthful heir to a north of Ireland estate while walking in his father's demesne met a country lad of about his own age and told him quite mildly, but still with the authoritative air of youth, that he was trespassing; that he had no right there; ignorant of the heir's identity, the country boy replied in the accent of the County Down, 'A hae as guid a recht as y'sel, anyway.' The young autocrat resented the impertinence of the young peasant. The dispute between them grew heated, and at last the argument beloved of all schoolboys of all grades was resorted to. They fought. The peasant proved rather the handier of the pair, and the young nobleman—" "Why, that was myself," interrupted Lord Dufferin, laughing. "I remember the incident clearly. The boy's name was Young. He was the son of a tenant on my father's estate. I told him he was trespassing. He questioned my right to interfere. At last I challenged him. He responded with cheerful alacrity. We fought, and he gave me a tremendous thrashing. But what is the application of your story? Surely you cannot be that hard fisted County Down lad?" "Governor Young," interposed the president, addressing the American, "I am delighted to find that you and Lord Dufferin are already known to each other." "Yes," said Governor Young; "his excellency and myself were talking over our first merry meeting thirty-five years ago in Clondeboyne demesne." And during the remainder of his stay in Canada Lord Dufferin had no more welcome guest at Government House in Ottawa than the governor of Ohio.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS.

Although the last session of the legislature killed the bill providing for rural school inspectors, the idea has not been killed but has been agitated more extensively than ever before, and the county superintendents desiring it are preparing to bring it before the next session of the legislature, when they feel sure that it will be passed. When the bill was introduced last year the idea was a new one and it had never been discussed to any extent and there was no systematic effort to secure its favorable consideration.

A number of county superintendents, who have been in St. Paul during the past week, express entire confidence that the next legislature will act favorably upon the proposition.

County Superintendent W. E. Freeman, of Blue Earth county, is among the most enthusiastic champions of the bill.

He thinks that if the state high and graded schools need inspectors, much more do the normal schools. He says rural schools are not what they should be and help is needed. He says:

"Those who have given the matter of state inspection of high and graded schools some consideration will not question that the greatest good has come from it. The inspectors of these schools go from one town or city to another, carrying with them the best ideas and methods of all the schools inspected. Except in very extraordinary and highly justifiable cases, these inspectors do not attempt to dictate to the principals or superintendents of such city schools. A wise inspector will unite his authority with the influence of the principal or superintendent, and together will secure through the board of education such building, such apparatus and such teachers as the conditions of the school may require. How many times have I, and how many times have you, heard principals and superintendents express a wish that the inspector would come in order that necessary changes might be made in teachers or school equipment?"

"Before passing to the real question at issue, it will be well to compare the conditions governing the inspection and supervision of the common schools of a county with those of the city. For this purpose I shall take the city of Mankato and the county of Blue Earth. I select these two because of a personal knowledge of each. I believe a perfectly parallel case may be drawn from any county in the state. Some may say there are few counties in the state with as many teachers as Blue Earth. In answer to which I must say that there are few cities in the state with as many teachers as Mankato."

The Globe barber shop will be open for baths 8 to 12 Sunday forenoons. New first-class barber from Michigan.

War on Ragtime Music.

Chicago musicians of the higher class—those who have engagements with the Thomas orchestra, theater orchestras and concert companies—are discussing a plan of forming a new organization and seceding from the Chicago Federation of Musicians, says the Chicago Journal. The reason is the feeling that inferior musicians who play for dances and for money rather than art's sake make up the body of the federation. The others want some distinction between the men who play ragtime and think it is music and those who are called upon to interpret the difficult compositions of Wagner, Verdi, Mascagni and Gounod. There are 2,000 union musicians in Chicago, and of these 400 or 500 are said to be in sympathy with the movement.

Why Easter is a "Movable" Feast.
During all of March the sun is coming farther north. About the 20th it shines directly on the equator, and the day is just as long as the night. The time of the old Jewish passover, and hence of our Easter, depends on this date, says March Ladies' Home Journal. This latter always comes on the Sunday following the first full moon after the sun crosses the line. This accounts for it being so "movable" a feast.

THE TAX BILL IS DEFEATED

SPECIAL TO THE DISPATCH.
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 25—The tax bill was defeated in the house today by a vote of fifty-four to sixty.

The special session of the legislature convened at the state capitol in St. Paul on February 4, just three weeks ago today, to consider the new tax code as revised and prepared by the state commission. Since that time amendments to the original code had been made by the dozens, but even then it did not appear to meet the approval of the majority of the house.

STORY ABOUT DUFFERIN.

How the Famous British Diplomat Renewed an Old Acquaintance.

When governor general of Canada, the late Lord Dufferin visited Washington and was banqueting at the White House by the president of the United States, says the Belfast Northern Whig. During the evening one of the president's guests, accosting the governor general, asked to be permitted the honor of renewing an old acquaintance. "With pleasure," said Lord Dufferin, whose memory for faces was excellent, trying hard to locate the personality of the "old acquaintance," but without success. "I don't wonder your excellency has forgotten me," said the American, interpreting rightly his lordship's inquiring gaze. "It is so very long ago since we met." "How long?" inquired Lord Dufferin. "Some thirty-five years," coolly replied the stranger. "Thirty-five years?" exclaimed the governor general in surprise. "Why, I was a little boy then." "I was a little boy myself," said the American, "but perhaps a brief story will help you to remember me." "I shall be delighted to hear it," returned courtly Lord Dufferin.

"Thirty-five years ago," proceeded the stranger, "the youthful heir to a north of Ireland estate while walking in his father's demesne met a country lad of about his own age and told him quite mildly, but still with the authoritative air of youth, that he was trespassing; that he had no right there! Ignorant of the heir's identity, the country boy replied in the accent of the County Down, 'A hae as guid a recht as y'sel, anyway.' The young autocrat resented the impertinence of the young peasant. The dispute between them grew heated, and at last the argument beloved of all schoolboys of all grades was resorted to. They fought. The peasant proved rather the handier of the pair, and the young nobleman—"Why, that was myself!" interrupted Lord Dufferin, laughing. "I remember the incident clearly. The boy's name was Young. He was the son of a tenant on my father's estate. I told him he was trespassing. He questioned my right to interfere. At last I challenged him. He responded with cheerful alacrity. We fought, and he gave me a tremendous thrashing. But what is the application of your story? Surely you cannot be that hard fisted County Down lad?" "Governor Young," interposed the president, addressing the American, "I am delighted to find that you and Lord Dufferin are already known to each other." "Yes," said Governor Young; "his excellency and myself were talking over our first merry meeting thirty-five years ago in Clondeboy demesne." And during the remainder of his stay in Canada Lord Dufferin had no more welcome guest at Government House in Ottawa than the governor of Ohio.

WANTS $10,000 FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

N. A. Lease by His Attorney C. A. Allbright Brings Suit Against Northern Pacific.

HIS BOY LOST A LEG UNDER CARS

Papers, were Served on W. D. McKay this Afternoon--Interesting Points Raised

Papers were served this afternoon on W. D. McKay, agent for the Northern Pacific in this city, in a rather novel suit and one which will be watched with interest.

The complaint is made by N. A. Lease, father of Claude Lease, the young man who was injured near the Monarch elevator a few months ago and who afterward lost a leg. The complainant seeks to recover $10,000 personal damages from the railroad company.

It will be remembered that young Lease with other young boys were sweeping wheat out of the cars standing on the sidetrack just west of Fourth street and somehow while young Lease was crawling under the car he was caught beneath the wheels as the switch engine bumped into the string of cars. He was taken to his home and a few days afterward the attending surgeon decided that an amputation of one of his lower limbs was necessary.

In the complaint it is alleged that under a recent ruling cars standing on a side track are public property and that anyone who occupies them while they are in this position is not trespassing, and that extraordinary care should be taken by employees of the company to avoid accidents in instances of this kind.

It is further claimed that young Lease with his other companions asked a brakeman if they could sweep wheat from the cars and they were told that they could. For this reason it is alleged that it was the duty of the brakeman to take extraordinary care, knowing that the boys were in some of the cars or thereabouts.

Attorney C. A. Allbright appears for the plaintiff in this action and he believes that he has a good case against the railroad company.

MOVEMENTS NORTHWARD.

The Scanlon-Brooks Company Will Transport 5,000,000 Feet of Logs By Rail to Minneapolis.

The Scanlon-Brooks company will be the first company to transport logs to Minneapolis by rail this season, when the shipment of 5,000,000 logs from the Rainy Lake district commences March 1. The logs are now on the railway landings twelve miles north of Virginia. All logs in this section of the Rainy Lake district have heretofore gone to Rainy Lake and have thus found their way to Canadian markets by waters flowing north. The construction of the Virginia & Rainy Lake railroad to Koochiching, Minn., has made it possible for the Minneapolis company to tap this district and do the manufacturing at its mill in that city.

The entire distance of the haul will be 300 miles. There will be from forty to forty-five cars per train. Each train will have a carrying capacity of from 250,000 to 300,000 feet, and it will take twenty trains three weeks to execute the contract.

The haul must be made in hurry-up fashion in order to clear the way before the ore commences to move, when the road will have all it can do handling the mining business. The timber is mostly of the long Norway variety.

The Scanlon-Brooks company brought 25,000,000 feet of logs to Minneapolis by rail last season. Mr. Scanlon says the company expects to duplicate and possibly exceed that total in its rail shipments this season.

The 5,000,000 will be brought to Virginia over twelve miles of the new road, and from that point will be shipped direct to this city over the Eastern Minnesota, the contracts for shipment having been closed with the officials of both companies Saturday.

The Backus-Brooks company is also counting on large rail shipments this season.

Lumbermen say that the continuance of the present warm spell for a few days will force the suspension of logging operations in the woods.

WORK VIRTUALLY AT A STANDSTILL

The Cry All Along the Line, is For Colder Weather and More Snow.

The logging business in northern Minnesota is practically suspended, the past seven or eight days of warm weather being especially demoralizing in its effects.

The logging operations this winter have been anything but profitable and unless there is another month of good cold weather with some more snow the business this year will fall way below that of previous years. To begin with there was very little cold weather and it was late before operations really commenced, but it was hoped that the cold weather would hold on for a time and spring would not make its appearance until quite late.

Officially Announced.

The appointment of Edward L. Brown as general superintendent of the Montana Central, with headquarters in Great Falls was officially announced by circular today. Mr. Brown's appointment was predicted several days ago. Since the absorption of the St. Paul & Duluth by the Northern Pacific, Mr. Brown has been superintendent for the latter company at the head of the lakes. His appointment to the Montana Central is a loss to the Northern Pacific. He succeeds George T. Ross, who goes to the Missouri Pacific. St. Paul Dispatch.

I know of good, worthy people in this town who have paid for a house and lot in full by rent money, and a few who have paid rent for twelve or fourteen years—paid for the property twice—yet the other fellow owns it. To such as can make a small cash payment down, I can sell good homes—well located—and on terms that the rent money will make you an owner instead of a renter only. ENTHUSIASTIC CONTEST.

Large Number of Guesses Being Registered in Contest for Ladies Gold Watch.

Up to date 421 guesses have been registered in the guessing contest which is being held in the H. P. Dunn & Co. drug store. Speculation as to the number of candies in the large vase is becoming rather interesting, to such an extent in fact that men are beginning to wager side moneys that they can guess closest to the right number. It does not cost much to register a guess, and consequently every one is eager for a chance to try and win the gold watch.

The Boston Coffee House, of Boston, Mass., has made arrangements with H. P. Dunn & Co., of this city, to display in their window a beautiful ladies' hunting case gold watch to be given away free.

They also display at the same place a glass jar filled with candy.

Every person purchasing one pound of Log Cabin coffee from any store in this city and bringing the wrappers to H. P. Dunn & Co's store will be entitled to one guess for each pound purchased.

The names and the number guessed by each person will be registered in rotation as they come in, and the first person so registered who guesses the correct number, or nearest the correct number of pieces of candy in the jar will be awarded the beautiful gold watch.

Guessing contest closes Friday, March 14th, at 7 o'clock p. m., at which time the jar will be opened and candy counted by a committee of disinterested parties. Ask your grocer for Log Cabin, Mocha and Java coffee. The price of it is 25c per pound. Save the wrappers and bring them to us.

University Grows.

Registrar Johnson of the state university has prepared a table of statistics covering the years from 1887 to 1901. During this period the growth of the university was sixteen times as rapid as the growth of the state. In 1887 the enrollment was 412 and in 1901 it was 3,413. The average attendance per 10,000 of population has increased from 3.49 in 1887 to 18.48 in 1901. While the actual cost to each person in the state has increased since 1887 from 2.996 cents to 8.68 cents, the expense to each person in the state for each student in the university has decreased from .0072 to .0053, so that at present it is about one-third what it was fifteen years ago. If the cost per capita to each person to support each student in the university had remained stationary since 1887, the cost per capita to each person in the state at the present time would be 15.7 instead of 8.68 as it is. In 1887 the total expense of the institution was $69,730.33 and in 1901 it was $412,164.99. In the same years the cost per student has fallen from $169.24 to $120.75.

Minnesota has a smaller expenditure than other institutions. Minnesota's expenditures in 1901, which do not include buildings or extraordinary repairs, were $412,164.99, while Yale and Michigan had $776,760 and $502,306.84 respectively.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

WILLIAM OWEN.

Had William Owen begun and followed out his career with the sole intention of producing Romeo and Juliet this season he could scarcely have been better fitted for it than chance and the magnificent opportunities of his earlier years have accomplished for him. Of all his productions in the Shakespearean and legitimate drama, Romeo and Juliet has been the best received and forms the basis of Mr. Owen's reputation in the west. He will be seen in this play at the Brainerd Opera House, March 1st.

It would be hard to point out an actor with a better temperamental equipment for the character of the lover Romeo than Mr. Owen. It has been said by some of his more zealous friends that he is a "matinee girl's idol." He may or may not be, but his power in a sentimental role is that of a naturally gifted and splendidly polished actor. If the soft imputation of matinee idol be true it is coupled with exquisite art as a delineator of the tender passion.

The version of Romeo and Juliet used by Mr. Owen is one too infrequently seen on the stage. The story of the loves of the young people of the houses of Montague and Capulet is told clearly, like the modern novel, with none of the tediousness that sometimes cumber the classic.

"THE PRIDE OF JENNICO."

"The Pride of Jennico," while it is one of the many plays which have been founded on a novel, and which takes its title from that of its fore-runner, is undoubtedly one of the most successful of all the plays which have arisen from that source. Perhaps a half dozen dramas which have owed their being to the prestige of a successful book title have had a permanent and substantial monetary success, but "The Pride of Jennico," together with "The Prisoner of Zenda" and its sequel, "Rupert of Hentzau," will easily lead this small list in the popularity which they have gained in public esteem. This great success of last year, with all its wealth of scenic display, and an unusually strong company, selected under the personal approval of Manager Daniel Frohman, will be presented here on March 10.

"TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Brainerd theatre goers were treated to as good a performance last night at the Brainerd Opera House as they have seen in a long time when Mr. Charles E. Hanford in the role of Petruchio in Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," assisted by Miss Helen Grantly, in the role of Katherine, was the offering. The "Taming of the Shrew" has been properly designated as one of the most amusing of the lighter works of the great poet. Mr. Hanford triumphs in his role in this piece, and if he ever did better in other roles a Brainerd audience would like to have the opportunity of hearing and seeing him. In the taming of his "dear Kate" as he calls her, lines are drawn for strenuous and ardent work and to a sluggard the monologue would fall flat indeed, but in the hands of the star of last night's performance there is a sumptuous explosion of exquisite climaxes, and there is no let up to the end of the play. It is fine, and Mr. Hanford's work was duly appreciated. He was given several curtain calls and an ovation on several occasions. Besides being able to carry on the strenuous task of training "dear Kate" Mr. Hanford shows another side of the nature of the man whom the great poet has depicted. He shows his ability to carry the role with its two-phase character to perfection.

Miss Helen Grantly is very pretty in the role of Katherine, but has not the force that most desired in this characterization. As an actress, however, she certainly possesses great talents, and with her interpretation of the role was enjoyed.

The entire company with a few exceptions was good and the scenery and costuming was fine. The banquet scene in the last act was especially beautiful.

In the audience last night the center of attraction was the box party given by Miss Elizabeth Somers, she having won in the contest for the most popular teacher inaugurated by THE DISPATCH, which entitled her to a box at the performance last night. Miss Somers invited with her the following popular lady teach-

WANTS $10,000 FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

N. A. Lease by His Attorney C. A. Allbright Brings Suit Against Northern Pacific.

Papers, were Served on W. D. McKay this Afternoon-Inter-esting Points Raised

Papers were served this afternoon on W. D. McKay, agent for the Northern Pacific in this city, in a rather novel suit and one which will be watched with interest.

The complaint is made by N. A. Lease, father of Claude Lease, the young man who was injured near the Monarch elevator a few months ago and who afterward lost a leg. The complainant seeks to recover $10,000 personal damages from the railroad company.

It will be remembered that young Lease with other young boys were sweeping wheat out of the cars standing on the sidetrack just west of Fourth street and somehow while young Lease was crawling under the car he was caught beneath the wheels as the switch engine bumped into the string of cars. He was taken to his home and a few days afterward the attending surgeon decided that an amputation of one of his lower limbs was necessary.

In the complaint it is alleged that under a recent ruling cars standing on a side track are public property and that anyone who occupies them while they are in this position is not trespassing, and that extraordinary care should be taken by employees of the company to avoid accidents in instances of this kind.

It is further claimed that young Lease with his other companions asked a brakeman if they could sweep wheat from the cars and they were told that they could. For this reason it is alleged that it was the duty of the brakeman to take extraordinary care, knowing that the boys were in some of the cars or thereabouts.

Attorney C. A. Allbright appears for the plaintiff in this action and he believes that he has a good case against the railroad company.

MOVMENTS NORTHWARD.

The Scanlon-Brooks Company Will Transport 5,000,000 Feet of Logs By Rail to Minneapolis.

The Scanlon-Brooks company will be the first company to transport logs to Minneapolis by rail this season, when the shipment of 5,000,000 logs from the Rainy Lake district commences March 1. The logs are now on the railway landings twelve miles north of Virginia. All logs in this section of the Rainy Lake district have heretofore gone to Rainy Lake and have thus found their way to Canadian markets by waters flowing north. The construction of the Virginia & Rainy Lake railroad to Koochiching, Minn., has made it possible for the Minneapolis company to tap this district and do the manufacturing at its mill in that city.

The entire distance of the haul will be 300 miles. There will be from forty to forty-five cars per train. Each train will have a carrying capacity of from 250,000 to 300,000 feet, and it will take twenty trains three weeks to execute the contract.

The haul must be made in hurry-up fashion in order to clear the way before the ore commences to move, when the road will have all it can do handling the mining business. The timber is mostly of the long Norway variety.

The Scanlon-Brooks company brought 25,000,000 feet of logs to Minneapolis by rail last season. Mr. Scanlon says the company expects to duplicate and possibly exceed that total in its rail shipments this season.

The 5,000,000 will be brought to Virginia over twelve miles of the new road, and from that point will be shipped direct to this city over the Eastern Minnesota, the contracts for shipment having been closed with the officials of both companies Saturday.

The Backus-Brooks company is also counting on large rail shipments this season.

Lumbermen say that the continuance of the present warm spell for a few days will force the suspension of logging operations in the woods.

N. A. Lease by His Attorney C. A. Albright Brings Suit Against Northern Pacific.

Papers were served this afternoon on W. D. McKay, agent for the Northern Pacific in this city, in a rather novel suit and one which will be watched with interest.

The complaint is made by N. A. Lease, father of Claude Lease, the young man who was injured near the Monarch elevator a few months ago and who afterward lost a leg. The complainant seeks to recover $10,000 personal damages from the railroad company.

It will be remembered that young Lease with other young boys were sweeping wheat out of the cars standing on the sidetrack just west of Fourth street and somehow while young Lease was crawling under the car he was caught beneath the wheels as the switch engine bumped into the string of cars. He was taken to his home and a few days afterward the attending surgeon decided that an amputation of one of his lower limbs was necessary.

In the complaint it is alleged that under a recent ruling cars standing on a side track are public property and that anyone who occupies them while they are in this position is not trespassing, and that extraordinary care should be taken by employees of the company to avoid accidents in instances of this kind.

It is further claimed that young Lease with his other companions asked a brakeman if they could sweep wheat from the cars and they were told that they could. For this reason it is alleged that it was the duty of the brakeman to take extraordinary care, knowing that the boys were in some of the cars or thereabouts.

Attorney C. A. Albright appears for the plaintiff in this action and he believes that he has a good case against the railroad company.

MOVEMENTS NORTHWARD.

The Scanlon-Brooks Company Will Transport 5,000,000 Feet of Logs By Rail to Minneapolis.

The Scanlon-Brooks company will be the first company to transport logs to Minneapolis by rail this season, when the shipment of 5,000,000 logs from the Rainy Lake district commences March 1. The logs are now on the railway landings twelve miles north of Virginia. All logs in this section of the Rainy Lake district have heretofore gone to Rainy Lake and have thus found their way to Canadian markets by waters flowing north. The construction of the Virginia & Rainy Lake railroad to Koochiching, Minn., has made it possible for the Minneapolis company to tap this district and do the manufacturing at its mill in that city.

The entire distance of the haul will be 300 miles. There will be from forty to forty-five cars per train. Each train will have a carrying capacity of from 250,000 to 300,000 feet, and it will take twenty trains three weeks to execute the contract.

The haul must be made in hurry-up fashion in order to clear the way before the ore commences to move, when the road will have all it can do handling the mining business. The timber is mostly of the long Norway variety.

The Scanlon-Brooks company brought 25,000,000 feet of logs to Minneapolis by rail last season. Mr. Scanlon says the company expects to duplicate and possibly exceed that total in its rail shipments this season.

The 5,000,000 will be brought to Virginia over twelve miles of the new road, and from that point will be shipped direct to this city over the Eastern Minnesota, the contracts for shipment having been closed with the officials of both companies Saturday.

The Backus-Brooks company is also counting on large rail shipments this season.

Lumbermen say that the continuance of the present warm spell for a few days will force the suspension of logging operations in the woods.

MRS. FORSYTH BADLY HURT.

Falls Down a Flight of Stairs and Narrowly Averts Being Quite Seriously Injured.

Last night while George Forsyth was waiting for his wife to come down to go to the opera house, Mrs. Forsyth fell from the top landing to the bottom of the stairs, head foremost.

At first it was thought that she was quite seriously hurt but on examination it was found that her condition was not critical. She was quite badly bruised about the head and shoulders.

A Good Prompt Rent Payer

Is clearly entitled to something better than mere shelter for himself and family. He is justly worthy of a home that he can call his own. I know of good, worthy people in this town who have paid for a house and lot in full by rent money, and a few who have paid rent for twelve or fourteen years—paid for the property twice—yet the other fellow owns it. To such as can make a small cash payment down, I can sell good homes—well located—and on terms that the rent money will make you an owner instead of a renter only. I have sold three homes the past week. Your turn comes next. P. B. NETTLETON, PALACE HOTEL.

ENTHUSIASTIC CONTEST.

Large Number of Guesses Being Registered in Contest for Ladies

Gold Watch.

Up to date 421 guesses have been registered in the guessing contest which is being held in the H. P. Dunn & Co. drug store. Speculation as to the number of candies in the large vase is becoming rather interesting, to such an extent in fact that men are beginning to wager side moneys that they can guess closest to the right number. It does not cost much to register a guess, and consequently every one is eager for a chance to try and win the gold watch.

The Boston Coffee House, of Boston, Mass., has made arrangements with H. P. Dunn & Co., of this city, to display in their window a beautiful ladies' hunting case gold watch to be given away free.

They also display at the same place a glass jar filled with candy.

Every person purchasing one pound of Log Cabin coffee from any store in this city and bringing the wrappers to H. P. Dunn & Co's store will be entitled to one guess for each pound purchased.

The names and the number guessed by each person will be registered in rotation as they come in, and the first person so registered who guesses the correct number, or nearest the correct number of pieces of candy in the jar will be awarded the beautiful gold watch.

Guessing contest closes Friday, March 14th, at 7 o'clock p. m., at which time the jar will be opened and candy counted by a committee of disinterested parties. Ask your grocer for Log Cabin, Mocha and Java coffee. The price of it is 25c per pound. Save the wrappers and bring them to us.

WORK VIRTUALLY AT A STANDSTILL

The Cry All Along the Line, is For Colder Weather and More Snow.

The logging business in northern Minnesota is practically suspended, the past seven or eight days of warm weather being especially demoralizing in its effects.

The logging operations this winter have been anything but profitable and unless there is another month of good cold weather with some more snow the business this year will fall way below that of previous years. To begin with there was very little cold weather and it was late before operations really commenced, but it was hoped that the cold weather would hold on for a time and spring would not make its appearance until quite late.

Officially Announced.

The appointment of Edward L. Brown as general superintendent of the Montana Central, with headquarters in Great Falls was officially announced by circular today. Mr. Brown's appointment was predicted several days ago. Since the absorption of the St. Paul & Duluth by the Northern Pacific, Mr. Brown has been superintendent for the latter company at the head of the lakes. His appointment to the Montana Central is a loss to the Northern Pacific. He succeeds George T. Ross, who goes to the Missouri Pacific. St. Paul Dispatch.

University Grows.

Registrar Johnson of the state university has prepared a table of statistics covering the years from 1887 to 1901. During this period the growth of the university was sixteen times as rapid as the growth of the state. In 1887 the enrollment was 412 and in 1901 it was 3,413. The average attendance per 10,000 of population has increased from 3.49 in 1887 to 18.48 in 1901. While the actual cost to each person in the state has increased since 1887 from 2.996 cents to 8.68 cents, the expense to each person in the state for each student in the university has decreased from .0072 to .0055, so that at present it is about one-third what it was fifteen years ago. If the cost per capita to each person to support each student in the university had remained stationary since 1887, the cost per capita to each person in the state at the present time would be 15.7 instead of 8.68 as it is. In 1887 the total expense of the institution was $69,730.23 and in 1901 it was $412,164.99. In the same years the cost per student has fallen from $169.24 to $120.75.

Minnesota has a smaller expenditure than other institutions. Minnesota's expenditures in 1901, which do not include buildings or extraordinary repairs, were $412,164.99, while Yale and Michigan had $776,760 and $502,306.84 respectively.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

WILLIAM OWEN.

Had William Owen begun and followed out his career with the sole intention of producing Romeo and Juliet this season he could scarcely have been better fitted for it than chance and the magnificent opportunities of his earlier years have accomplished for him. Of all his productions in the Shakespearean and legitimate drama, Romeo and Juliet has been the best received and forms the basis of Mr. Owen's reputation in the west. He will be seen in this play at the Brainerd Opera House, March 1st.

It would be hard to point out an actor with a better temperamental equipment for the character of the lover Romeo than Mr. Owen. It has been said by some of his more zealous friends that he is a "matinee girl's idol." He may or may not be, but his power in a sentimental role is that of a naturally gifted and splendidly polished actor. If the soft imputation of matinee idol be true it is coupled with exquisite art as a delineator of the tender passion.

The version of Romeo and Juliet used by Mr. Owen is one too infrequently seen on the stage. The story of the loves of the young people of the houses of Montague and Capulet is told clearly, like the modern novel, with none of the tediousness that sometimes cumber the classic.

"THE PRIDE OF JENNICO."

"TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Brainerd theatre goers were treated to as good a performance last night at the Brainerd Opera House as they have seen in a long time when Mr. Charles B. Hanford in the role of Petruchio in Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," assisted by Miss Helen Grantly, in the role of Katherine, was the offering. The "Taming of the Shrew" has been properly designated as one of the most amusing of the lighter works of the great poet. Mr. Hanford triumphs in his role in this piece, and if he ever did better in other roles a Brainerd audience would like to have the opportunity of hearing and seeing him. In the taming of his "dear Kate" as he calls her, lines are drawn for strenuous and ardent work and to a sluggard the monologue would fall flat indeed, but in the hands of the star of last night's performance there is a sumptuous explosion of exquisite climaxes, and there is no let up to the end of the play. It is fine, and Mr. Hanford's work was duly appreciated. He was given several curtain calls and an ovation on several occasions. Besides being able to carry on the strenuous task of training "dear Kate" Mr. Hanford shows another side of the nature of the man whom the great poet has depicted. He shows his ability to carry the role with its two-phase character to perfection.

Miss Helen Grantly is very pretty in the role of Katherine, but has not the force that most desired in this characterization. As an actress, however, she certainly possesses great talents, and with her interpretation of the role was enjoyed.

Novel Experiment In Irrigation
About to Be Made.

On the farm of E. B. Cowgill, near Great Bend, Kan., will be operated next month a novel device for putting Kansas sunshine to work. This will be a solar motor, such as has been used in experiments in Arizona and California.
It consists of a large radiator or reflector thirty-three feet in diameter at the outer edge and sixteen feet at the inner, lined with mirrors which focus on a boiler that occupies the position of a handle to the widespread umbrella of the reflector. The reflector is moved by the sun by clockwork, being suspended on a high derrick. The heat is so intense near the boiler that wooden poles are quickly burst into flames.

The operation of the device is simple.
It is brought into focus by hand after sunrise by the pushing of a lever. Indicators show when the true focus is obtained, and in an hour 150 pounds of steam is generated. The engine is then started by turning the throttle valve, and the plant may be left to itself. The clockwork makes the reflector follow the sun all day. The oiling is automatic, and the boiler is filled in the same way. Being attached to a pump, such a motor can irrigate over a hundred acres. In the experiment near Great Bend the work will be done at wells that have never been pumped dry even by the best gasoline engines. It is believed that with power to harness the sunshine of western Kansas and with a machine that will work all day and cost nothing for fuel great results can be obtained.

THEORY TO PROLONG LIFE.

Illinois Man Claims to Do It by Will Power.

That prolonging human life is possible through the proper employment of one's will power is being put to a practical test by S. V. Keller of Medora, Ill., who, despite his seventy-one years, walks with the elasticity and dash of an athlete, knows no ills and expects to pass the century mark of time.

Mr. Keller is one of the pioneer educators of Macoupin county and is known widely as an advanced thinker and a man of remarkable mentality.
He has made a diligent study of the mind and claims many things for it in its power over matter. He now advances the theory that it is in truth the elixir of life, the power that restores youth to age, the secret of longevity.
It is within the power of any one, he claims, to exercise this force if there is a sufficient understanding of the principle and an intelligent application thereof. From twenty to thirty years may be added to one's life thereby, he maintains.

To illustrate his own rejuvenation
Mr. Keller the other day in the presence of a St. Louis Republic representative flaunted his legs and arms with the nimbleness and perfect ease of a ballet dancer. "See!" he exclaimed, starting off sprightly across a room.
"My legs are as free and easy as a child's. I am younger than I was thirty years ago."

DINES AT WHITE HOUSE

TAINS PRINCE HENRY AT A

Executive Mansion Rarely if Ever Before Contained a More Distinguisht ed Assemblage—The President and Prince Henry Both Propose Appropriate Toasts—Royal Visitor Afterwards Departs for New York.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The dinner given to Prince Henry by President Roosevelt at the White House at night closed the honors bestowed on the royal visitor by official Washington.
The affair was on an elaborate scale and brought together a most distinguished company. It was an assemblage, such as has rarely if ever before gathered in the White House.
To accommodate the large number of guests the dinner table was set in the east room, the decorations of which were on the most magnificent scale ever attempted. An effective and new feature of the decorations was the electric light illuminations. Several thousand little electric lights of all colors and arranged in fanciful designs supplemented the illumination from the great chandeliers. They were hung in artistic shapes from the tops of the large mirrors and gracefully intertwined in simlax with which they were covered. A square canopy of them was hung over the center of the room directly over the places occupied by the president and the guest of honor, and those sitting directly opposite. In the mirrors and windows the electric light designs were of stars and anchors, emblematic of Prince Henry's duties as a sailor.

The general effect of the decorations
in the dining room was pink and white.
This was especially characteristic of the immense table, which was formed in the

Shape of a Crescent

with the concave side towards the east, where President Roosevelt had his seat. Music was furnished by the Marine band, which played a number of German and American patriotic airs.

The prince repaired to the red room of the White House, where the guests assembled. The dinner was set for 8 o'clock, and when that hour arrived the guests passed through the blue room, where the presentations were made, and thence to the east room.
President Roosevelt sat at the head of the table with Prince Henry on his right. On his left was Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador. On the right of Prince Henry was Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, while to the left of Lord Pauncefote was the Mexican ambassador.

Opposite to the president sat Secretary Hay, while to his right was Dr.
von Holleben, the German ambassador, and to his left the French ambassador. To the right of the German ambassador was the Italian ambassador, and to the left of the French ambassador was Chief Justice Fuller.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor, and the German people, saying:
"We admire their great past and great present, and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the

between the two peoples ever grow stronger."

The president also proposed the health of our guest, Prince Henry of Prussia, in these words:

"In the name of the people I greet you and extend you our warmest welcome and the assurance of our heartiest good will."

Following the toast of the president to the German emperor, Prince Henry arose and addressed himself to the president, proposed a toast to himself and the people of the United States, accompanying it with an expression of good will and hope for the continuation of friendly relations between the German and American nations.

Before the dinner at the White House there was presented to the president a large pastel portrait of Prince Henry in naval attire, a statuette (bust) of the emperor, and an autograph naval scale prepared by the emperor. The bust of the emperor shows him in uniform of the corps guard with eagle-tipped helmet.

After the dinner the guest repaired to the parlors, where for an hour or more they remained in social conversation. The prince chatted freely with the company, many of whom he had met during the day. At 10:40 the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station, where his special train awaited him.
A troop of cavalry and a squadron of mounted and bicycle policemen acted as escort to the station, and saw him safely aboard the train which left

Finishing Touches Given to the Kaiser's Yacht.

New York, Feb. 25.—The finishing touches on the emperor of Germany's new yacht were given during the day, and everything is in readiness for the launching which is to take place at 10 o'clock a. m. The Union Jack was hoisted at her bow and from a small temporary staff amidships floated the imperial German standard. The American flag flies aft and strung from the bow up to and over the temporary staff, and down to the taffrail runs a string of the international signal code flags.

After the launching the prince will go to the Hohenzollern, where luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. He will then be taken to the Battery, where a military escort will receive him at 3:30 p. m., and thence to the city hall where he will be presented with the freedom of the city.

Commission Wants More Money From Minnesota Legislature.

St. Paul, Feb. 25.—The house of representatives devoted half an hour to general business and then resumed the amendment of the new tax code.
It disposed of all amendments before it.

Minnesota will not have a revised code for several years to come, according to the statement of the commission now engaged in the work.

If the task which has been set for the present commission is pushed to a conclusion next fall, as was originally intended, the result will be an imperfect and defective codification.

Through Representative C. D. Allen of Hennepin the commission presented to the legislature a bill so amending section 1, chapter 241, as to extend the time for the codification of the Minnesota statutes until Dec. 1, 1904. The bill asks $40,000 to prosecute the work, in addition to the $35,000 appropriated by the last legislature.

Alleged That a Crystal Lake Grocer
Disappeared With $20,000.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 25.—Gilbert
S. Gilbertson and his business partner have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy against Thomas Crenshaw, a former grocer here, who disappeared Feb. 10. In it they allege that a few days prior to his disappearance they sold the Crystal Lake (Ia.) bank to him, but received no cash at the time, having extended him credit for the purchase money. They further allege that he immediately took possession of the bank, induced the cashier to issue to him a number of certificates of deposit aggregating over $20,000 and then fled. He is alleged to have obtained some money from the Omaha National bank on a portion of the certificates as collateral security. Mr.
Gilbertson is state treasurer of Iowa.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Broth-by a bull some time Sunday. His body was not found until later. A board tightly grasped in the hands of the dead man showed that he had made a brave effort to defend himself.

Havana, Feb. 25.—An order has been

pelling those who do not now pay for their water to pay the new rates which are also to be established. The water meter system will be introduced for large consumers.

diana, has under consideration an invitation from President Roosevelt and the position of first assistant postmaster general.

AFTER STORMY DEBATE

South Carolina Senators Not Permitted by Voice or Vote to Participate in the Proceedings—Prince Henry Pays a Visit While the Discussion is at Most Dramatic Point—Royal Guest Also Calls on the House.

Washington, Feb. 25.—After eight hours of tumultuous debate the senate shortly before 7 o'clock p. m. passed the Philippine tariff bill by a vote of 46-26, a strictly party vote. Mr. Tillman and Mr. McLaurin, the two senators from South Carolina, who on Saturday last were declared by the senate to be in contempt because of their fight in the chamber, were not permitted by voice or by vote to participate in the proceedings.

The question as to their right to vote precipitated a sharp debate lasting nearly two hours. Mr. Turner (Dem., Wash.) contended vigorously for the right of the two senators to cast their votes and he was sustained
by Mr. Patterson (Col.), Mr. Bailey (Tex.) and other Democrats. They held that even though the two senators were actually under arrest and in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, they could demand that they be allowed to vote, as the senate had not passed on their case.

Mr. Foraker, Mr. Aldrich and other Republicans held that the senators clearly could not participate in any of the proceedings of the senate until they had purged themselves of contempt and the senate had removed the ban placed on them.

The president pro tem, Mr. Frye, held that the two senators could not vote, and he was sustained by a majority of the senate.

During the debate on the Philippine bill, Mr. McComas and Mr. Wellinton of Maryland became involved in a controversy during the course of which the latter declared that if Mr.
McComas should make his statements outside of the senate chamber he would brand them as a malicious falsehood. He was called to order promptly, and resumed his seat amid considerable excitement.

Many amendments were offered to the Philippine bill, but except those offered by the committee, only one,
an amendment restricting the operation of the sedition laws enacted by the Taft commission, was passed.

AT A DRAMATIC MOMENT.

Warm Debate Going on in Senate
When Prince Henry Entered.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Prince Henry's first view of the senate of the United States hardly could have been more dramatic and thrilling.

On the floor the youthful senator from Texas, Mr. Bailey, was hotly engaged with several of the older leaders on the Republican side over the right of the two senators from South Carolina, who are in contempt of the senate, to vote on the Philippine bill.
The excitement at the moment was so great that even the entrance of a foreign prince, unwonted as it was,
could hardly divert attention from the great debate which was in progress. Senator Frye, with the prince at his side, mounted the rostrum and invited him to be seated. The senators on the floor and spectators in the galleries had arisen at his appearance, but there was no audible demonstration. He took a seat beside the side of the president pro tem., and Senator Frye resumed the gavel, and the debate proceeded. With only a few words of explanation from Mr. Frye the prince seemed to understand the situation.

For fully 20 minutes he sat completely engrossed by the scene before him. At last Ambassador von Holle-ben, who sat below him at the clerk's desk, suggested it was time to go, whereupon the prince thanked Senator Frye and arose. Senator Frye interrupted the senate with a rap of his gavel. The senators immediately stood up while the people in the galleries craned their necks. Then as the prince ascended the steps and stood for an instant bowing his acknowledgments ere he took his departure, the galleries broke into applause. It had been the intention of the senate to give the prince an informal reception such as he received at the house end of the Capitol, but in the excitement attending the proceedings on the floor the arrangement was not carried out.

Prince Henry Visits the House of Representatives.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The house passed a bill to divide Texas into four judicial districts, and also the Tawney resolution calling on the secretary of war for information concerning the transfer of sugar lands in Cuba since the American occupation. It then transacted some business pertaining to the District of Columbia and later took up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. The bill carries an appropriation of $1,931,678, an increase of $32,350 over last year. It was made the vehicle for speeches on trusts, coinage and other irrelevant matters. The galleries were packed all day in anticipation of Prince Henry's visit.

Prince Henry entered the gallery of the house and was loudly applauded, some venturing to give vent to cheers.
Prince Henry gracefully bowed and was then shown to his seat by Mr.
Hitt (Ill.). He remained for 15 minutes, during which time he evinced the greatest interest in the proceedings. He was loudly applauded as he

Novel Experiment in Irrigation
About to Be Made.

On the farm of E. B. Cowgill, near Great Bend, Kan., will be operated
next month a novel device for putting
a solar motor, such as has been used in experiments in Arizona and California.
It consists of a large radiator or re-
the outer edge and sixteen feet at the inner, lined with mirrors which focus
on a boiler that occupies the position
moved with the sun by clockwork, being suspended on a high derrick. The heat is so intense near the boiler that wooden poles are quickly burst into
flames.

The operation of the device is simple.
It is brought into focus by hand after
sunrise by the pushing of a lever. In-
obtained, and in an hour 150 pounds of steam is generated. The engine is then started by turning the throttle valve,
and the plant may be left to itself. The
clockwork makes the reflector follow
way. Being attached to a pump, such
a motor can irrigate over a hundred acres. In the experiment near Great Bend the work will be done at wells
that have never been pumped dry even
by the best gasoline engines. It is be-
sunshine of western Kansas and with
cost nothing for fuel great results can be obtained.

Illinois Man Claims to Do It by Will Power.

That prolonging human life is possible through the proper employment of
one's will power is being put to a practical
test by S. V. Keller of Medora, Ill., who, despite his seventy-one years,
walks with the elasticity and dash of
to pass the century mark of time.

Mr. Keller is one of the pioneer edu-
and a man of remarkable mentality.
He has made a diligent study of the
its power over matter. He now advances the theory that it is in truth the
elixir of life, the power that restores
youth to age, the secret of longevity.
It is within the power of any one, he
principle and an intelligent application thereof. From twenty to thirty
by, he maintains.

To illustrate his own rejuvenation
Mr. Keller the other day in the presence of a St. Louis Republic representative flaunted his legs and arms
of a ballet dancer. "See!" he exclaimed, starting off sprightly across a room.
"My legs are as free and easy as a
years ago."

TAINS PRINCE HENRY AT A

Executive Mansion Rarely if Ever Before Contained a More Distinguish-
wards Departs for New York.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The dinner
given to Prince Henry by President Roosevelt at the White House at night
closed the honors bestowed on the royal visitor by official Washington.
The affair was on an elaborate scale
and brought together a most distinguished company. It was an assemblage, such as has rarely if ever before gathered in the White House.
To accommodate the large number
the east room, the decorations of which
ever attempted. An effective and new
thousand little electric lights of all colors and arranged in fanciful designs
supplemented the illumination from
the great chandeliers. They were
of the large mirrors and gracefully intertwined in smilax with which they
them was hung over the center of the
room directly over the places occupied by the president and the guest of honor, and those sitting directly opposite. In the mirrors and windows
the electric light designs were of stars
and anchors, emblematic of Prince Henry's duties as a sailor.

in the dining room was pink and white.
This was especially characteristic of the immense table, which was formed in the

Shape of a Crescent
with the concave side towards the
his seat. Music was furnished by the Marine band, which played a number
of German and American patriotic airs.

The prince repaired to the red room
of the White House, where the guests
assembled. The dinner was set for 8 o'clock, and when that hour arrived
room, where the presentations were
made, and thence to the east room.
President Roosevelt sat at the head
the British ambassador. On the right of Prince Henry was Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, while to the left of Lord Pauncefote was the Mexican ambassador.

Opposite to the president sat Secretary Hay, while to his right was Dr.
von Holleben, the German ambassador, and to his left the French ambassador. To the right of the German ambassador was the Italian ambassador, and to the left of the French ambassador was Chief Justice Fuller.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor, and the German people, saying:
great present, and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the

stronger."

The president also proposed the health of our guest, Prince Henry of Prussia, in these words:

"In the name of the people I greet you and extend your warmest welcome and the assurance of our heartiest good will."

Following the toast of the president
to the German emperor, Prince Henry
arose and addressed himself to the president, proposed a toast to himself
and the people of the United States,
accompanying it with an expression of
good will and hope for the continuation of friendly relations between the German and American nations.

Before the dinner at the White House there was presented to the president a large pastel portrait of Prince
(bust) of the emperor, and an autograph naval scale prepared by the
guard with eagle-tipped helmet.

After the dinner the guest repaired
to the parlors, where for an hour or
more they remained in social conversation. The prince chatted freely
with the company, many of whom he had met during the day. At 10:40
the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station,
where his special train awaited him.
A troop of cavalry and a squadron of
safely aboard the train which left

Finishing Touches Given to the Kaiser's Yacht.

touches on the emperor of Germany's
new yacht were given during the day,
and everything is in readiness for the
launching which is to take place at 10 o'clock a. m. The Union Jack was hoisted at her bow and from a small
temporary staff amidships floated the
imperial German standard. The American flag flies aft and strung from the
bow up to and over the temporary
string of the international signal code
flags.

After the launching the prince will go to the Hohenzoellern, where luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. He will then be taken to the Battery, where
a military escort will receive him at
where he will be presented with the freedom of the city.

Commission Wants More Money From Minnesota Legislature.

St. Paul, Feb. 25.—The house of representatives devoted half an hour to general business and then resumed
the amendment of the new tax code.
It disposed of all amendments before
it.

Minnesota will not have a revised
code for several years to come, according to the statement of the commission now engaged in the work.

a conclusion next fall, as was originally intended, the result will be an imperfect and defective codification.

of Hennepin the commission presented
section 1, chapter 241, as to extend the time for the codification of the Minnesota statutes until Dec. 1, 1904. The bill asks $40,000 to prosecute the work,
in addition to the $35,000 appropriated
by the last legislature.

AFTER STORMY DEBATE

South Carolina Senators Not Permitted by Voice or Vote to Participate in the Proceedings—Prince Henry Pays a Visit While the Discussion
Is at Most Dramatic Point—Royal
Guest Also Calls on the House.

hours of tumultuous debate the senate shortly before 7 o'clock p. m. passed
the Philippine tariff bill by a vote of 46-26, a strictly party vote. Mr. Tillman and Mr. McLaurin, the two senators from South Carolina, who on Saturday last were declared by the senate
to be in contempt because of their
fight in the chamber, were not permitted by voice or by vote to participate in the proceedings.

vote precipitated a sharp debate lasting nearly two hours. Mr. Turner (Dem., Wash.) contended vigorously
for the right of the two senators to
(Tex.) and other Democrats. They
could demand that they be allowed
to vote, as the senate had not passed
on their case.

Mr. Foraker, Mr. Aldrich and other Republicans held that the senators clearly could not participate in any of the proceedings of the senate until they had purged themselves of contempt and the senate had removed
the ban placed on them.

The president pro tem, Mr. Frye,
held that the two senators could not
vote, and he was sustained by a majority of the senate.

During the debate on the Philippine
bill, Mr. McComas and Mr. Wellin-
a controversy during the course of
which the latter declared that if Mr.
McComas should make his statements
outside of the senate chamber he
would brand them as a malicious falsehood. He was called to order promptly, and resumed his seat amid considerable excitement.

Many amendments were offered to
the Philippine bill, but except those
offered by the committee, only one,
an amendment restricting the operation of the sedition laws enacted by the Taft commission, was passed.

AT A DRAMATIC MOMENT.

Warm Debate Going on in Senate
When Prince Henry Entered.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Prince Henry's first view of the senate of the United States hardly could have been
more dramatic and thrilling.

On the floor the youthful senator
from Texas, Mr. Bailey, was hotly engaged with several of the older leaders on the Republican side over the right of the two senators from South Carolina, who are in contempt of the senate, to vote on the Philippine bill.
The excitement at the moment was
so great that even the entrance of a foreign prince, unwonted as it was,
could hardly divert attention from
the great debate which was in progress. Senator Frye, with the prince
at his side, mounted the rostrum and
invited him to be seated. The senators on the floor and spectators in the
galleries had arisen at his appearance,
but there was no audible demonstration. He took a seat beside the side of the president pro tem., and Senator Frye resumed the gavel, and the debate proceeded. With only a few words of explanation from Mr. Frye the prince seemed to understand the situation.

For fully 20 minutes he sat completely engrossed by the scene before
him. At last Ambassador von Holle-ben, who sat below him at the clerk's desk, suggested it was time to go,
whereupon the prince thanked Senator Frye and arose. Senator Frye interrupted the senate with a rap of his gavel. The senators immediately
stood up while the people in the gal-
the prince ascended the steps and
stood for an instant bowing his acknowledgments he he took his departure, the galleries broke into ap-
the senate to give the prince an informal reception such as he received at the house end of the Capitol, but in
the excitement attending the proceedings on the floor the arrangement was
not carried out.

Prince Henry Visits the House of Representatives.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The house
passed a bill to divide Texas into four
judicial districts, and also the Tawney
war for information concerning the transfer of sugar lands in Cuba since
the American occupation. It then
transacted some business pertaining
to the District of Columbia and later
took up the diplomatic and consular
an appropriation of $1,931,678, an increase of $82,950 over last year. It was made the vehicle for speeches on trusts, coinage and other irrelevant
matters. The galleries were packed all day in anticipation of Prince Henry's visit.

Prince Henry entered the gallery of
the house and was loudly applauded,
some venturing to give vent to cheers.
Prince Henry gracefully bowed and
was then shown to his seat by Mr.
Hitt (Ill.). He remained for 15 minutes, during which time he evinced
the greatest interest in the proceed-

Novel Experiment in Irrigation
About to Be Made.

On the farm of E. B. Cowgill, near Great Bend, Kan., will be operated
next month a novel device for putting
a solar motor, such as has been used in
experiments in Arizona and California.
It consists of a large radiator or re-
the outer edge and sixteen feet at the inner, lined with mirrors which focus
on a boiler that occupies the position
of a handle to the widespread umbrella
moved with the sun by clockwork, being suspended on a high derrick. The heat is so intense near the boiler that wooden poles are quickly burst into
flames.

The operation of the device is simple.
It is brought into focus by hand after
sunrise by the pushing of a lever. Indicators show when the true focus is obtained, and in an hour 150 pounds of steam is generated. The engine is then started by turning the throttle valve,
and the plant may be left to itself. The
clockwork makes the reflector follow the sun all day. The oiling is automatic, and the boiler is filled in the same way. Being attached to a pump, such
a motor can irrigate over a hundred acres. In the experiment near Great Bend the work will be done at wells
that have never been pumped dry even
by the best gasoline engines. It is be-
sunshine of western Kansas and with a machine that will work all day and
cost nothing for fuel great results can be obtained.

Illinois Man Claims to Do It by Will Power.

That prolonging human life is possible through the proper employment of
one's will power is being put to a practical
test by S. V. Keller of Medora, Ill., who, despite his seventy-one years,
walks with the elasticity and dash of an athlete, knows no ill and expects to pass the century mark of time.

Mr. Keller is one of the pioneer edu-
known widely as an advanced thinker
and a man of remarkable mentality.
He has made a diligent study of the mind and claims many things for it in its power over matter. He now advances the theory that it is in truth the
elixir of life, the power that restores
youth to age, the secret of longevity.
It is within the power of any one, he claims, to exercise this force if there
is a sufficient understanding of the
principle and an intelligent application thereof. From twenty to thirty years may be added to one's life thereby, he maintains.

To illustrate his own rejuvenation
Mr. Keller the other day in the presence of a St. Louis Republic representative flaunted his legs and arms
with the nimbleness and perfect ease
of a ballet dancer. "See!" he exclaimed, starting off sprightly across a room.
"My legs are as free and easy as a
years ago."

TAINS PRINCE HENRY AT A

Executive Mansion Rarely if Ever Before Contained a More Distinguished Assemblage—The President and Prince Henry Both Propose Appropriate Toasts—Royal Visitor Afterwards Departs for New York.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The dinner
given to Prince Henry by President Roosevelt at the White House at night
closed the honors bestowed on the royal visitor by official Washington.
The affair was on an elaborate scale
and brought together a most distinguished company. It was an assemblage, such as has rarely if ever before gathered in the White House.
To accommodate the large number
of guests the dinner table was set in
the east room, the decorations of which were on the most magnificent scale
ever attempted. An effective and new feature of the decorations was the electric light illuminations. Several thousand little electric lights of all colors and arranged in fanciful designs supplemented the illumination from
the great chandeliers. They were hung in artistic shapes from the tops
of the large mirrors and gracefully intertwined in smilax with which they were covered. A square canopy of
them was hung over the center of the room directly over the places occupied by the president and the guest of honor, and those sitting directly opposite. In the mirrors and windows
the electric light designs were of stars
and anchors, emblematic of Prince Henry's duties as a sailor.

The general effect of the decorations
in the dining room was pink and white.
This was especially characteristic of
in the

Shape of a Crescent

with the concave side towards the
east, where President Roosevelt had
his seat. Music was furnished by the Marine band, which played a number of German and American patriotic airs.

The prince repaired to the red room
of the White House, where the guests
assembled. The dinner was set for 8 o'clock, and when that hour arrived
the guests passed through the blue
room, where the presentations were made, and thence to the east room.
President Roosevelt sat at the head
right. On his left was Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador. On the right of Prince Henry was Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, while
to the left of Lord Pauncefote was
the Mexican ambassador.

Opposite to the president sat Secretary Hay, while to his right was Dr.
von Holleben, the German ambassador, and to his left the French ambassador. To the right of the German ambassador was the Italian ambassador, and to the left of the French ambassador was Chief Justice Fuller.

During the dinner the president proposed the health of the German emperor, and the German people, saying:
"We admire their great past and
great present, and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the

Bonds of Friendship

between the two peoples ever grow stronger."

The president also proposed the health of our guest, Prince Henry of Prussia. In these words:

"In the name of the people I greet
you and extend you our warmest welcome and the assurance of our heartiest good will."

Following the toast of the president
to the German emperor, Prince Henry
arose and addressed himself to the president, proposing a toast to himself and the people of the United States,
accompanying it with an expression of good will and hope for the continuation of friendly relations between the German and American nations.

Before the dinner at the White House there was presented to the president a large pastel portrait of Prince Henry in naval attire, a statuette (bust) of the emperor, and an autograph naval scale prepared by the emperor. The bust of the emperor
shows him in uniform of the corps
guard with eagle-tipped helmet.

After the dinner the guest repaired
to the parlors, where for an hour or more they remained in social conversation. The prince chatted freely
with the company, many of whom he had met during the day. At 10:40
the party dispersed, the prince leaving directly for the railroad station,
where his special train awaited him.
A troop of cavalry and a squadron of
mounted and bicycle policemen acted
safely aboard the train which left

Finishing Touches Given to the Kaiser's Yacht.

New York, Feb. 25.—The finishing touches on the emperor of Germany's
new yacht were given during the day,
and everything is in readiness for the
launching which is to take place at 10 o'clock a. m. The Union Jack was hoisted at her bow and from a small
temporary staff amidships floated the imperial German standard. The American flag flies aft and strung from the bow up to and over the temporary
staff, and down to the taffrail runs a string of the international signal code
flags.

After the launching the prince will go to the Hohenzollern, where luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. He will then be taken to the Battery, where
a military escort will receive him at
where he will be presented with the freedom of the city.

Commission Wants More Money From Minnesota Legislature.

St. Paul, Feb. 25.—The house of representatives devoted half an hour to general business and then resumed
the amendment of the new tax code.
It disposed of all amendments before
it.

Minnesota will not have a revised
code for several years to come, according to the statement of the commission now engaged in the work.
If the task which has been set for
the present commission is pushed to
a conclusion next fall, as was originally intended, the result will be an imperfect and defective codification.

Through Representative C. D. Allen
of Hennepin the commission presented
to the legislature a bill so amending
section 1, chapter 241, as to extend the time for the codification of the Minnesota statutes until Dec. 1, 1904. The
bill asks $40,000 to prosecute the work,
in addition to the $35,000 appropriated
by the last legislature.

Alleged That a Crystal Lake Grocer
Disappeared With $20,000.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 25.—Gilbert
S. Gilbertson and his business partner have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy against Thomas Crenshaw, a former grocer here, who disappeared
Feb. 10. In it they allege that a few days prior to his disappearance they sold the Crystal Lake (Ia.) bank to
him, but received no cash at the time, having extended him credit for the purchase money. They further allege
that he immediately took possession of the bank, induced the cashier to
issue to him a number of certificates
of deposit aggregating over $20,000
and then fled. He is alleged to have obtained some money from the Omaha
National bank on a portion of the certificates as collateral security. Mr.
Gilbertson is state treasurer of Iowa.

by a bull some time Sunday. His
board tightly grasped in the hands of the dead man showed that he had made a brave effort to defend himself.

Havana, Feb. 25.—An order has been issued here requiring all houses in Havana to put in city water, and compelling those who do not now pay for their water to pay the new rates which
meter system will be introduced for large consumers.

ter general.

Poor Catch of Seals.

ers on the Republican side over the right of the two senators from South Carolina, who are in contempt of the senate, to vote on the Philippine bill.
The excitement at the moment was so great that even the entrance of a foreign prince, unwonted as it was,
could hardly divert attention from
the great debate which was in progress. Senator Frye, with the prince
at his side, mounted the rostrum and
invited him to be seated. The senators on the floor and spectators in the
galleries had arisen at his appearance,
but there was no audible demonstration. He took a seat beside the side of the president pro tem, and Senator Frye resumed the gavel, and the debate proceeded. With only a few words of explanation from Mr. Frye the prince seemed to understand the situation.

For fully 20 minutes he sat completely engrossed by the scene before
him. At last Ambassador von Holle-ben, who sat below him at the clerk's desk, suggested it was time to go,
whereupon the prince thanked Senator Frye and arose. Senator Frye interrupted the senate with a rap of his gavel. The senators immediately
stood up while the people in the galleries craned their necks. Then as
the prince ascended the steps and
stood for an instant bowing his acknowledgments he he took his departure, the galleries broke into applause. It had been the intention of the senate to give the prince an informal reception such as he received at the house end of the Capitol, but in
the excitement attending the proceedings on the floor the arrangement was
not carried out.

Prince Henry Visits the House of Representatives.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The house
passed a bill to divide Texas into four
judicial districts, and also the Tawney
war for information concerning the transfer of sugar lands in Cuba since
the American occupation. It then
transacted some business pertaining
to the District of Columbia and later
took up the diplomatic and consular
appropriation bill. The bill carries
an appropriation of $1,931,678, an increase of $32,950 over last year. It was made the vehicle for speeches on trusts, coinage and other irrelevant
matters. The galleries were packed all day in anticipation of Prince Henry's visit.

Prince Henry entered the gallery of
the house and was loudly applauded,
some venturing to give vent to cheers.
Prince Henry gracefully bowed and
was then shown to his seat by Mr.
Hitt (Ill.). He remained for 15 minutes, during which time he evinced
the greatest interest in the proceed-
left the chamber.
